SOCIETY

Society will be chiefly concerned next week in preparation for the coming of the bankers of the Kansas State Bankers' association, which celebrates the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization May 22 to 24. The wives of about two hundred members will accompany their husbands, and the local committee, consisting of the wives of the officers of the ten Topeka banks are making elaborate plans for their education. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Crosby and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Snyder have offered their homes for entertainments for the visitors. The Crosby house has been built within the last year, and a reception which will be given there Wednesday night, May 22, will be the first large affair at the new home. It is one of the handsomest houses in Topeka, and Mr. and Mrs. Crosby, in opening their house for the visiting strangers, have demonstrated the spirit of hospitality that we are accustomed to associate with the names of southern people. The party will be a formal reception, and music will be furnished by an orchestra.

The local bankers and their out-of-town guests will go Thursday night to the Grand opera house to see Margaret Illington in "Kindling." The entertaining bankers will bring Margaret Illington and her company from New York especially for the occasion, and only the bankers and their guests will be in the audience. The guests will be entertained Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the C. W. Snyder home. A program will be given by a number of women from different towns of the state, and music will be furnished by Miss Nellie Kouns and Miss Sarah Kouns, who have lately returned from Munich, Germany. After the program there will be a luncheon at the Snyder home. The decorations for both parties will be the flowers from the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mulvane and Mr. J. B. Burrows of Highland Park. After the luncheon the bankers will go in automobiles to the Snyder home to take the women for a motor trip over the town.

Mrs. J. B. Larimer will give a luncheon Monday for Mrs. W. H. Lininger of Chicago, who will be the guest of friends in Topeka. Covers will be laid for Mrs. Lininger, Mrs. J. C. Emahiser, Mrs. E. E. Ames, Mrs. Charles Sawyer of Norton, Mrs. Roy Bone, Mrs. O. E. Walker, Mrs. C. T. McLeellan and Mrs. Larimer.

A woman, who has been honored by the title "The best American citizen," passed through Topeka this week. Jane Addams of Hull House, Chicago, is spending this week in Kansas, and is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. J. Addams, who is a banker of Girard. She was in Topeka once before a number of years ago and lectured at the auditorium, and for 20 years now her name has been known and her work discussed throughout the country. She has represented to all the civilized world the latest ideas in philanthropy and social and civic reform, and she has stood in the forefront of the ranks of advancement for womankind. I saw her in Wichita this week at the C. E. Beachy home, where she was being entertained. "I could not give out the plans for the future of Hull House," she said, "but the work there is pretty closely watched, and the public sees the fulfillment without hearing the promise. The latest improvements we have made consist in the opening of some new trade schools for girls, where they are taught sewing and other trades, and we have extended the work of the trade schools for boys, and are teaching them modeling in wood, copper and brass, and have also added a department of telegraphy."

One hears Miss Addams spoken of as a "plain faced woman," but this seems to be founded, not so much on fact as on the assumption that all intellectual women are lacking in physical beauty; for both beauty and brilliance make a total of gifts too great to be coming to any one person. However, Miss Addams is far from being a plain woman. Her figure is commanding and her face attractive. A suspicion of a dimple in each cheek redeems it from severity, and her cool blue eyes have about them a directness of vision that is clear and wide, giving those who see and hear her the sense of having a view of the far hills and the open sea. She is without hobbies and has concentrated on the practical problems of her work the devotion and energy that many women use in floating a lot of wrong-headed notions that collapse when they are tested by the touchstone of actual experience.

A former Topeka girl, Miss Kate Adams, is engaged in settlement work in Chicago in connection with Hull House, and other Topeka girls have taken it up or are expecting to do so late.

The Good Government club will give a farewell reception Friday night, May 24, for the students of the law and medical schools and their girl friends. The affair will be held in the rooms of the law school, and the feature of the evening's program will be and address on "The Elementary Principles of Good Government" by Captain Clad Hamilton.

The club has taken in during the past week fifty new members, and they hope to bring Jane Addams to Topeka to lecture for them later in the year.

Hazelle LoDesca Loveland will give a recital Friday evening, May 24, at the First Methodist church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society.

The teachers and pupils of the high school gave a reception this afternoon from 3 to 5 at the high school building for the parents of the students.

Dean Horace Whitehouse will play the organ at the Auditorium tonight before the show and between the acts. The numbers will be: The Lost Chord, by Sullivan; Romance, by Svendsen; Adagio and Allegro, by Vivaldi; by Gluck; Minuet from the Suite Zottiqu, by Boellman and the first movement of the Fifth Symphony by Widor.

Mrs. E. C. Wilm, instructor of piano in Washburn college, who is this year continuing her music studies in Boston, is to receive a degree from the Oberlin Conservatory of Music on the commencement in recognition of her musical studies since her graduation from the conservatory in 1910.

The men at the Phi Delta house of Washburn college are keeping open house for out of town guests who are attending the track meet. A number of students from other towns are in Topeka for the event, and some of them are making their headquarters at the chapter house. The men of the house and their guests will have a smoker tonight.

A plan is being formed by a number of prominent Kansas women for the organization of a society to be known, perhaps as "The Kansas Council of Women," and to be made up of the members of all the large associations of women in the state. The organization is to be broad enough to include all the women of the various organizations, though not in any way intended to replace the individual societies. The new society is to be formed at the meeting of the Woman's Kansas Press club in Manhattan, May 14 and 15, and the membership will include the women of the Press club, the Kansas Day club, Graduate Nurses, the D. A. R., the Suffrage League, the G. A. R. women, the American Woman's League, the Fed-

The graduating organ recital of Miss Mildred Hazelrigg was given Friday night in the First Baptist church. She was assisted by Miss Dorinda Abbott, contralto, and Miss Pansy Bell, accompanist. The applause of the audience indicated the enthusiasm with which the numbers of the program were received. Professor Skilton, dean of the University of Kansas school of music, arranged a special number for Miss Hazelrigg in recognition of her exceptional musical ability. The organist showed perfect control of the complex instrument, and the difficult selections of the program were played with artistic feeling that arises above the mechanical skill required in the playing of the modern organ. Miss Hazelrigg appears to have before her a career of promise.

The M. U. M. S. of the high school had a line party to the high school play, chaperoned by Miss Tucker and Miss Larimer.
